

Last Stop on Dowling Street

Racism never got off the bus ... On a rainy night in Houston, in a ratty apartment as dark as his dreams, retired bus driver Frank Granger wakes in a cold sweat convinced a stranger with a gun lurks at the foot of his bed. And hes right. In this riveting tale of suspense and revenge, Carter offers a vivid look back at one of the darkest times in our nations history. ----- BONUS STORY: Road Gamble Whipping around sharp bends, tires squealing on wet asphalt ... From the very first line, this suspenseful short story about a mans dangerous encounter with a mysterious man on a motorcycle on a rainy mountain highway grabs the reader by the throat and doesnt let go.
